

Our prayers are with our veterans

On Nov. 12, St. Stephen School remembered the men and women who have served our country in the armed forces. A special assembly was called for all students. The seventh grade students led a prayer service for all veterans, both deceased and living, and all the students and teachers joined together in singing the national anthem. St. Stephen School sent a special "thank you" to all veterans, with appreciation for their sacrifices.

Golden Agers

The Nifty Knitters of the Grand Island Golden Age Center, under the direction of Lorraine Wilcox, have announced that they were able to distribute more than 2,000 hand-made articles of clothing – hats, scarves and mittens – to the less fortunate. Pictured above are members of the group: Maria Leszczak, Don Hamman, Jean Schlegel, Joyce Good, Jackie Kazmierczak, Donna Walker, Joan Compo, Jeanne Anstett, Lorraine and Maxine Eldridge.

Spotlighters take a bow

Grand Island High School's Spotlighters Drama Club had the second of two performances of "Alice in Wonderland" on the high school stage Saturday night.

Alice and the Cheshire Cat (Shannon Boreali) listen to the Red Queen and Red King (Molly Wynne and Luke Burkhart).

Mmmm! National Honor Society spaghetti!

Grand Island High School's National Honor Society held a spaghetti dinner fundraiser on Friday, Nov. 13, in the high school cafeteria. Helping to serve up the pasta were Honor Society members, from left: Andrea Nicolcia, Caitly Taylor, Hillary Figler and Lauren Fonte. (photo by Larry Austin)

Tweedledum (played by Kara Dudley, left) battles Tweedledee (Alyssa Accardo) as Alice (Alissa Bailey) looks on in a scene from the first act of the Spotlighters Drama Club's "Alice in Wonderland," Saturday at Grand Island High School.

At the final curtain, directors Kathie Macro, left, and Tracie Groves of "Alice in Wonderland" received red roses from the cast for their efforts in the production. (photos by Larry Austin)