

RRG announces DEC-CWM online hearings

DEC considering CWM permit applications

Residents for Responsible Government is providing a link to next week's state Department of Environmental Conservation online hearings regarding applications to DEC by CWM Chemical Services LLC. CWM, a subsidiary of Waste Management, is seeking to reopen its hazardous waste operations on Balmer Road in the Town of Porter. The facility has been shut down since 2015 when the company's DEC operating permits expired.

In a release, RRG stated the link will provide "access for the public to watch or listen to the presentation of testimony ... regarding CWM's application to site a new 6-million-ton hazardous waste and PCB landfill operation in the towns of Lewiston and Porter."

The session will open at 10 a.m. and will be broadcast online at www.webex.com with audio access via phone.

RRG explained, "This hearing is specific to the predicted impacts to air quality from the proposed RMU-2 hazardous waste and PCB landfill (Residuals Waste Management-2) on property contaminated with radiological soils. This is one of several hearings in the past year regarding WWM applications, which date back to 2023."

The session may continue to April 19. Actual participation in the adjudicatory hearing is limited to the designated parties. Residents may join the meeting via the internet or listen by phone.

County: 'Inspire a Well Niagara' campaign

Submitted by the Public Information Office

In preparation for Mental Health Awareness Month in May, Niagara County Department of Mental Health & Substance Abuse Services (NCDMH) Deputy Director Myrla Gibbons Doxey announced the launch of the "Inspire a Well Niagara" campaign in partnership with the Community Network of Care (CNOC) for Children & Families in Niagara County and the Niagara County Opioid Task Force public awareness subcommittee, both of which she co-chairs.

The campaign seeks to have community members submit their own unique, encouraging, uplifting and hopeful messages via the Survey Monkey link below to be included in a daily push notification to Well Niagara app users. Community members who submit messages can choose whether or not to have their name included with their message. Submitted messages will begin to appear on the Well Niagara app beginning in May.

"We hope to collect at least 365 inspirational messages – one for each day of the year," Gibbons Doxey said. "Words can have a powerful impact on our psyche. A simple, positive message delivered to your phone from someone in your community can really make a difference. It may just be the one that gives someone the hope they need to keep going that day."

"This is a community engagement campaign that provides an opportunity to come together to support one another through words of encouragement and strength," said Laura Kelemen, NCDMH director of community services. "It is important to continue supporting individuals who may be struggling and inspire them to find or stay on their path to wellness. Every person matters."

"Whatever someone may be dealing with – a physical health, mental health, substance use or other life concern – it can isolate individuals, leaving them feeling alone in their struggles," said Becky Wydysh, chairwoman of the Niagara County Legislature and chair of the Niagara County OASIS (Opioid) Task Force. "It is our goal to let people know that they are not alone, are surrounded by a community who cares, and that 'There is Help; There is Hope. Recovery is Possible!'"

To submit a message that may be used in a push notification on the Well Niagara app, visit <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/InspireAWellNiagara>.
