

Youngstown splash pad at Faulkner Park gets a deep concrete clean

Submitted On 716 Day, a crew from Xtreme House/Concrete Wash donated its time to clean the concrete splash pad at Youngstown's Faulkner Park. It was a coordinated effort with Mayor Rob Reisman and Recreation Director Jeff Gruarin. One member of the Xtreme crew said, "We were all born and raised in Youngstown. This Town of Porter and Village of Youngstown have been great to us, so it feels amazing to be able to give back to the future generations that use this beautiful park and the splash pad. "We send a big 'Thank you' to the current mayor, Rob Reisman; the DPW; and Jeff Graurin from the Recreation Department for all their coordination in allowing us to make this happen." Shown are before and after photos, as well as action images.
